Trying to define what Baptists believe sometimes can be a difficult task. Since each church is autonomous, the church decides what it believes and how it carries out ministry. But Baptists do have set of distinctives which guide their faith. Among these distinctives are the autonomy of the local church, baptism by immersion, and the priesthood of all believers. The diversity and distinctives that Baptists express can seem confusing for those not immersed in Baptist culture. Jesus Was a Baptist? shines a light on this motley group who have become the largest protestant group of Christians in the U.S. It allows you to uncover the uniqueness of Baptists, how they think, and what they believe. Dr. W. David Phillips is a life-long Baptist. He currently serves a Baptist church in Delaware where he has been since 2004. He has his Masters of Divinity from New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary and his Doctorate of Ministry, Leadership in the Emerging Culture from George Fox Seminary where he studied with Len Sweet. David is also the author of Holy Rewired: Science, the Gospel and the Journey Toward Wholeness, Kept: The Message of Jude, and Reframing Success: Missional Metrics for Missional Ministry, (an ebook for amazon's kindle ereader.)
